Who we are

For 50 years, CTP has prepared people with disabilities for professional careers in technology. Founded in Berkeley in 1974 as the world's first program of its kind, we have delivered over one million hours of direct service. We are peer-led: 71% of our staff are program graduates with disabilities. All training is live and remote, taught by our instructors over Zoom and reaching participants across California.

2025 impact

- 86% of graduates achieved positive outcomes: 39% employed with ongoing retention support from CTP, 22% actively engaged in job search with CTP support, 8% advanced to further training or higher education
- 171 individual training and assessment services delivered, plus 101 additional individuals served beyond training
- 3,000 hours of work experience provided, 13 internships, and 48 computers put directly in participants' hands
- 95% of Digital Career Compass participants rated it helpful, and 89% left with clearer career goals

"My client made more progress at CTP than I have seen anyone make in the 23 years I have been at DOR." — Diana Valenzuela, DOR Foster City Counselor

Easy ways to feature CTP this October

- Social spotlight: a post featuring CTP's story or a graduate profile. We provide the copy and images.
- Blog or newsletter feature: a short interview with Alex or a CTP graduate. We make it turnkey.
- Co-hosted virtual event: a 30-minute NDEAM session with your team or employee resource group.
- ERG meet-and-learn: CTP alumni working in tech careers speak to your employees.
- Alumni speaker: a CTP graduate keynote for your NDEAM programming.

Every option is low-lift on your end. We provide the content, the speakers, and the coordination.

The bigger picture

CTP is a 501(c)(3) public charity (EIN 94-2830046). Beyond NDEAM features, we partner with employers on hiring pipelines through our Business Advisory Council, and we offer sponsorship tiers from $2,500 to $25,000. Ask us for the partnership menu.
